

ANIMAL SCIENCE UNDERGRADUATE THESIS OF THE YEAR AWARD

2025

The BSAS
Undergraduate Thesis of the year Award 2025
competition is open to universities and colleges
that have students participating in animal science related courses

DO YOU HAVE
ANIMAL SCIENCE
AND RELATED
SUBJECT
STUDENTS THAT DESERVE SPECIAL RECOGNITION?

Free BSAS membership for entered students

» ENTER HERE

For more information about the Award:
www.bsas.org.uk/awards

Shaping the future of
ANIMAL SCIENCE

THE AWARD CLOSES ON 31ST JULY 2025

SCOPE

- Areas and specialisms related to the welfare and productivity of farm animals to help produce quality, safe and environmentally sustainable food
- Animal health and welfare
- Management of equine, companion and captive zoo animals
- Only theses adhering to this stated scope will be considered

GUIDELINES

- Two entries per Institution
- Open to animal science undergraduate students via institution entry
- Entries should relate to dissertations submitted July 2024 - June 2025
- Entries will be shortlisted on the abstract provided with the thesis
- PDF Format
- All entries must be submitted in UK English
- Entry deadline 31st July 2025

1st PRIZE

- Opportunity to present at the BSAS Annual Conference 2026
- Abstract printed in Proceedings
- Complimentary BSAS 2026 Delegate Conference Pass
- £150 towards travel and accommodation
- Thesis will be summarised for publication in the BSAS Fledgling Bytes series plus a BSAS newsletter article about the winner

HIGHLY COMMENDED

The next best 11 theses that are Highly Commended will be summarised for publication in the BSAS Fledgling Byte series plus a BSAS newsletter article about the entrant.

WIN
AN OPPORTUNITY TO PRESENT AT THE BSAS ANNUAL CONFERENCE
2026!

For further details and guidelines please visit:
www.bsas.org.uk/awards/undergraduate-thesis-of-the-year